Dear Mr. Oedzes:

Thanks for your January 14 letter,-- for keeping us updated.

It's enormously encouraging that you're now working with Dr. Temple Grandin to design humane pre-slaughter handling methods in your facility which would both protect the safety of workers and respond to public concerns for protecting animals.

In view of your above initiative, it would appear that the question raised in your letter of September 18, 1991 is now moot.

Again, I appreciate your offer to keep us updated on progress. Wishing you a happy and productive 1992!

Sincerely,

Henry Spira
